Fiction Writing. Fiction is a wonderful conjuring act. With only words and the reader's imagination, a work of fiction can sail across the world in pursuit of a whale, or time-travel to another dimension, or zero in on a few minutes in line at the local bank, enveloping the reader in a made-up story that feels real.

Step 5: Story Mapping. At this point, students will need to decide what they are going to write about. If they are stuck for a topic, have them just pick something they can write about, even if it's not the most captivating story in the world. A skilled writer could tell a great story about deciding what to have for lunch.
